Table S1. Heat map of the complete dataset for canine and feline plasma metabolites. Red and green shaded cells indicate P = 0.05 (red indicates that the mean values are significantly higher for that comparison; green values are significantly lower). Light red and light green shaded cells indicate 0.05 < P < 0.10 (light red indicates that the mean values trend higher for that comparison; light green values trend lower).

Click here to Download Table S1