

Figure S5. The barplot shows optical density of E. coli and B. subtilis cultures after 24-h incubation with secretome samples treated with different concentration of MeJA. The bars ($M \pm SD$) represent the results of three independent experiments performed in triplicate.