APPENDIX S13. The patterns of the environmental covariate gradients of the data (shaded) are visible as used to predict richness (isolines) of ectomycorrhizal fungi in central to northern Europe. All values are scaled. Lower values are lighter, grading to higher values that are darker.