

Article

Controlled electron beam synthesis of transparent hydrogels for drug delivery applications

Electronic Supplementary Information

Sarah Glass ¹, Mathias Kühnert¹, Bernd Abel¹ and Agnes Schulze ^{1,*}

¹ Leibniz Institute of Surface Engineering (IOM), Permoserstraße 15, D-04318 Leipzig; sarah.glass@iom-leipzig.de (S.G.); mathias.kuehnert@iom-leipzig.de (M.K.); bernd.abel@iom-leipzig.de (B.A.); agnes.schulze@iom-leipzig.de (A.S.)

* Correspondence: Agnes.Schulze@iom-leipzig.de; Tel.: +49-(0)341-235-2400

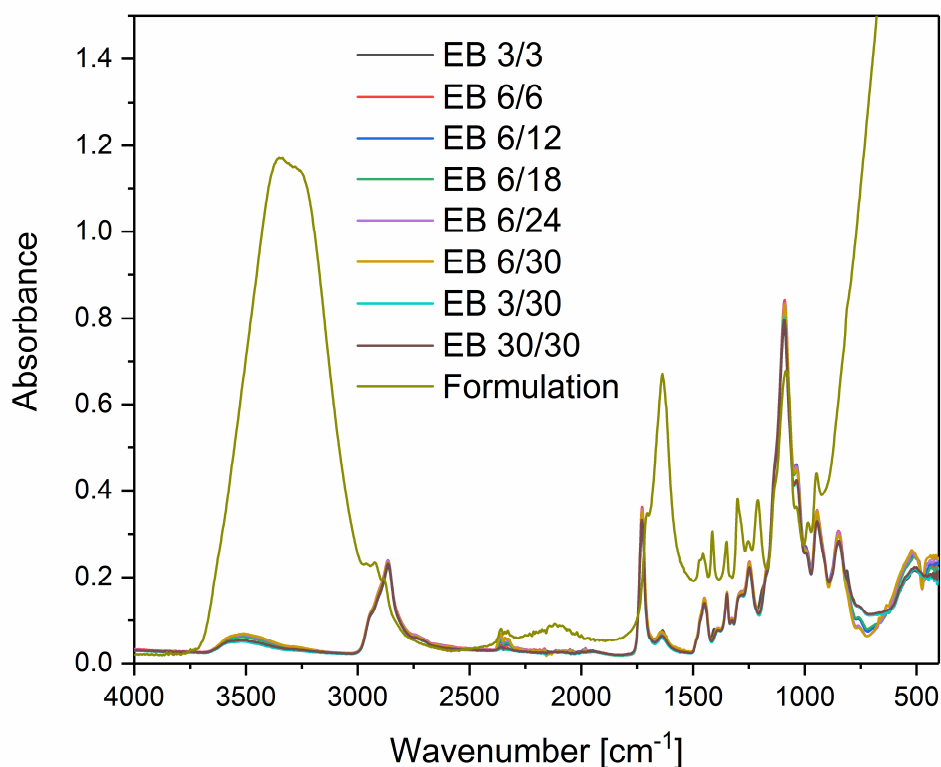

Figure S1: FT-IR spectra of the hydrogels and of the monomer formulation. Spectra were recorded measuring ATR-IR using a Vector II Fourier-transform infrared (FTIR) spectrometer from Billerica, MA, USA). Spectra were normalized to the IR band at 1705 cm^{-1} .