

Supplementary Figure S1: Mt. Schrankogel (Eastern Central Alps, Austria, 3497 m a.s.l) and sampling altitudes on the south-western slope seen from the South (above) and impression of the sampling illustrating a quite uniform slope throughout the total altitudinal gradient (below).