

APPENDIX

Figure S1. The coincidence of research areas using the WoS classifications (Principle component analysis).

Each node shows the research area and its size represents the number of papers related to this discipline. A straight line means that the relationship is strong; while a dashed line shows the weak relationship.