

Supplementary Figure S2 Changes in serum testosterone levels after transplantation of human PDGFR α^+ cells into LuRKO mouse testis. Every 2 weeks, serum samples were taken to measure testosterone levels. The rate of change in serum testosterone levels is relative to the serum testosterone levels before transplantation, which is considered a value of 1. PDGFR α : platelet-derived growth factor receptor alpha; LuRKO: luteinizing hormone receptor knock-out.