

Reviewer 1 v.2

Comments to the Author

Relevant study with important information. Although it is clear that patients with sepsis and septic shock evolve with multiple organ dysfunction and this increases the severity of the condition, there was no association with NIV failure. Recommend for publication after improvements made by the authors.