

Supplementary Figure S2. Variation in Shannon diversity index (A (unique), B (97%)) and average abundance (C) for the cultivable fungal communities using different media. To satisfy normality and homoscedasticity assumptions, a log-transformation was applied to average abundance. Duncan was used for multiple comparisons. The same lowercase letters indicated no significant difference ($p > 0.05$). Error bars depict the standard error.