Figure S5 | Cross-reactivity of the T cells. TIL (black) were tested towards peptide pools of other patients including SLP loaded on EBV-LCL and SSP. Medium with DMSO (white) with or without EBV-LCL were taken along as negative control for the SLP and SSP, respectively. This cross-reactivity setting shows the patient-specific nature of neoantigen reactivity. The mean  $\pm$  standard deviation of the biological duplicates in the same experiment are depicted.
