

Supplementary Figure 1: Multidimensional scaling plot showing the result of k-means clustering with $k = 2$. The two clusters support the anticipated difference between N-glycan abundances in normal interstitial fluid vs tumour interstitial fluid samples.