

Figure S3. Presence of a putative proventricular cast in the midgut of flea collected 6-h post-infection. The image in the bottom inset is a merged image generated using the insets showing the proventriculus and the free-floating mass located into the midgut.