

Figure S4: Negative control proximity ligation assay experiments. Representative images of negative control experiments where each primary antibody was incubated individually with subsequent incubation with probes.