

Figure 1 S (supplement). The center of the sialolith with a strong autofluorescence, discriminating the core from the outer layers.

Representative LSFM (Light sheet fluorescence microscopy) of a submandibular sialolith (n = 3). After decalcification, the strong central autofluorescence separated the core from the outer layers. Scale bar: 10 mm.