

The addition of chaetocin immediately affects on the cell migration suggesting that the impaired cell motility was not a result of transcriptional regulations.

↑
Add 200 nM chaetocin

Confluent cells were scratched and incubated. After two hours, chaetocin was added to the cells (lower). Phase-contrast images taken every 2 hours are shown.