Reviewer Comments to Author:

I thank the authors for understanding the issue related to the chromosome numbering, the plum genome assembly and its colinearity with the previous genetic maps. This major modification performed by the authors will definitely be helpful to the scientists and breeders working with plum and any other stone fruit species (Prunus spp.). I do appreciate this considerable effort made by the authors and provided they make sure that the version available online (on the GDR) as well as in the public database (for the raw data) were corrected, I do agree with its publication and congratulate the authors.
