

Description of Additional Supplementary Files

File Name: Supplementary Video 1

Description: Moving-circles paradigm recently developed where two circles move around the screen, sometimes moving closer and at times moving away from each other. When the circles touch, participants are delivered a mild electric stressor. Note that circle movement, while smooth, has a high degree of unpredictability.