

Reviewer 1 v.1

Comments to the Author

This letter to the editor addresses an important and under-discussed management issue in COVID-19 and focuses on the ventilatory management of patients with COVID-19 in the setting of underlying neuromuscular disease, which has not previously been explored in the literature, even in society-specific guidelines and reviews.