

Data extracted from the reviews included: author and year of publication; design; number of included studies and their designs; aim of review; description of included population/s; description of mHealth/eHealth intervention/s; comparators; key outcome/s; effectiveness of interventions; and an overall statement on quality appraisal.