

Supplementary Figure 2. Capillary diameter increases in diabetic retinopathy (DR). 40x magnification view of capillaries in Control (A) vs DR (B) in a region without microaneurysms. Capillaries in diabetic retina is visibly larger in diameter. The figures illustrate capillaries of the same plexus and same retina eccentricity in both groups using the same magnification.