

Typical order of early signs observed for pneumonia and anastomotic leak. Overview of the amount of experts (out of 12) that described that pneumonia or anastomotic leak is typically observed in the given routine measurement as first, second, or last sign of deterioration.