intro

OUR RELATIONSHIP WITH FOOD DURING THE COVID-19 PANDEMIC

This short European-wide survey is designed to capture important aspects of your behavior and attitudes to food during this time of pandemic. Your participation will be highly appreciated and help us to understand how food systems, as a central aspect of our lives, can be improved for everyone's benefit over the longer term.

The questionnaire takes about 10-15 minutes to complete.

Unless where clearly stated otherwise, please answer on behalf of all the people in or connected to your household who are typically involved together in obtaining, preparing and eating food, not just yourself as an individual. If there is someone else in your household who has more knowledge than you about some of the questions, please feel free to ask her or him. Please ensure that only one response is submitted per household.

Please note:

- The results of this research will be used for scientific purposes only and may be published.
- All data will be treated anonymously and confidentially at every stage of the research.
- Only general statistics will appear in reports.
- This questionnaire is 100% compliant with the EU's GDPR regulations. Please click here for more information.
- As an independent research initiative, it is entirely free from any political, commercial or vested interest.
- You have the right to discontinue the survey at any time.
- I understand and accept the points stated above and wish to participate in this study.
