

Supplemental Materials

Supplemental Figure 1. Total head entries into the receptacle during test sessions depicted in Figure 6. There was a main effect of alcohol ($F[1, 13]=9.04$, $p=0.010$) with increased total head entries during alcohol sessions. There were no other significant effects suggesting that non-specific behavior was not disrupted by baclofen/muscimol injection.