

Supplementary Figure S1

Figure S1. Effect of serum replacement on mosquito feeding rate of lab-colonized An. stephensi. Blood feeding rate was determined as the number of engorged mosquitoes/number of mosquitoes tested \times 100. Whole blood (unwashed) and serum replaced-blood (washed) were used for feeding experiments. Data are represented as mean \pm standard deviations from twenty independent experiments.