

Supplementary Figure 2. Mean log₁₀-transformed concentrations of inflammatory markers by blood type in non-White PLCO participants. Error bars show 95% confidence interval, and omitted points designate groups where no individual with a given blood type was present in the data. Panel A shows markers that were significantly associated with Duffy blood type in White participants, and panel B shows markers that were significantly associated with ABO blood type in White participants.