

Figure S1. Immune cell infiltration characterization comparing responder and nonresponder. Blue, red and green color represent liver samples of responders before treatment, responders after treatment and nonresponders before treatment. Numbers above any two boxes represent P -value of student's T test (P -value < 0.05 was considered to be significantly different).