

Figure 4S. Tissue microarray staining for CD163, a marker for M2 polarized macrophages. Examples of negative and positive staining are shown in A. There was no significant difference in the average  $SUV_{max}$  between cells that stained negative for CD163, and those that stained positive (B).