Search strings for electronic databases

The individual search strings used to search the electronic databases are reported below. Most of the reported search strings are from the 2018 update. The search strings used in the update were identical to the original search strings from the 2016 search.

As mentioned in the deviations from protocol section in the review, the accessibility of some of the electronic databases changed in the period between the original and the updated search. For the searches that were not updated in 2018, or had no new results, we have reported the original search string from 2016.
