

Supplemental Digital Content 1. Example of a directed acyclic graph used to identify potential confounders of the relationship between maternal gestational urinary phthalate metabolite levels (yellow oval) and preschool ADHD (blue rectangle). Unmeasured factors are shown in gray shaded rectangles, while measured factors are shown in blue un-shaded ovals.