

Figure S1. Univariate activation correlates with duration of sleep stage

The duration of Slow Wave Sleep (SWS, as proportion of total sleep time) positively correlated with the sleep-specific (SL-ML) univariate activation in right posterior hippocampus for subsequently remembered object-word pairs (left), but not those pairs that were forgotten (right).