

Data Sharing Statement

Data

Data available: No

Additional Information

Explanation for why data not available: We are continuing to evaluate the data from this open-label phase 2 study with respect to further development of this compound in developmental epileptic encephalopathies. In order to protect the Company's proprietary information and intellectual property rights, we do not believe it is appropriate to release additional data in the public domain at this time.