

Standards for Reporting Qualitative Research: A Synthesis of Recommendations

O'Brien, Bridget C.; Harris, Ilene B.; Beckman, Thomas J.; Reed, Darcy A.; Cook, David A. *Academic Medicine*89(9):1245-1251, September 2014.

Title and Abstract	Page Number
Title	1
Abstract	1
Introduction
Problem formulation	2
Purpose of research question	2
Methods
Qualitative approach and research paradigm	2-3
Researcher characteristics and reflexivity	N/A; Given this was an anonymous survey, we did not interact with participants in the context of knowledge production and thus have not included discussion on reflexivity.
Context	2-3
Sampling Strategy	2-3, Appendix A; 12-18 (CHERRIES checklist)
Ethical issues pertaining to human subjects	N/A
Data collection methods	2-3
Data collection instruments and techniques	2-3
Units of study	3
Data processing	3
Data analysis	3
Techniques to enhance trustworthiness	3
Results/findings
Synthesis and interpretation	3-7
Links to empirical data	Within discussion, 8-9
Discussion
Integration with prior work, implications, transferability, and contribution(s) to the field	8-9
Limitations	9
Other
Conflicts of interest	N/A
Funding	10