

THE LANCET

Supplementary appendix

This appendix formed part of the original submission. We post it as supplied by the authors.

Supplement to: Alfieri C, Egrot M, Desclaux A, Sams K, on behalf of CoMeSCov.
Recognising Italy's mistakes in the public health response to COVID-19. Lancet 2022; 399: 357-58.

CoMeSCoV (Containment and health measures to limit COVID-19 transmission: Social experiences in France, Italy, and the USA in the time of a pandemic), led by co-PIs Marc Egrot¹ and Sandrine Musso³:

Research team members:

Chiara Alfieri^{1,2}
Fleur Beauvieux¹,
Algassime Diallo¹,
Firmin Kra^{1,4},
Carlotta Magnani³,
Francesca Mininel¹,
Kelley Sams^{1,5}

This research was funded by support from REACTing (Research and Action: Targeting Emerging Infectious Disease) and the French National Research Agency (ANR grant ANR-20-COVI-000),

This article would never have seen the light of day without the contributions of Sandrine Musso, co-coordinator of the CoMeSCoV Programme, who passed away on 7 August 2021 in Marseille.

¹Laboratoire Population, Environnement, Démographie (LPED, UMR 151, Institut de Recherche pour le Développement, Aix-Marseille University), Marseille, France.

²Recherches Translationnelles sur le VIH et les Maladie Infectieuses (TransVIHMI, UMR 233-IRD, 1175 INSERM, Montpellier University), Montpellier, France.

³Centre Norbert Elias, (CNE), Aix-Marseille University, CNRS, EHESS, Avignon University, Marseille, France.

⁴UNESCO Chair in Bioethics, A. Ouattara University, Bouaké, Ivory Coast.

⁵Walden University, MN, USA.

All research group members are also members of the Réseau Ouest Africain Anthropologie des Epidémies Emergentes (RAEE).