Appendix D: GRIPP2 Reporting Checklist – Short Form (Staniszewska et al., 2017)

Section and topic	Item	Section where reported and details
1: Aim	Report the aim of PPI (patient and public	Study aim is included in the Methods: In line with the policy, ethical and political involvement) in the study	imperatives included in the introduction, patient engagement in this research was considered essential, in order to ensure that patient perspectives were integral to preparation, execution and translation.
2: Methods	Provide a clear description of the	Patients are co-authors and so all methods relate to their contribution as stated.
	methods used for PPI in the study	Additional information is included in the Methods. The influence of the Harrison et al. (2019) foundational principles and best practice activities for patient stakeholder engagement in research is also included.
3: Study results	Outcomes—Report the results of PPI in	The research team reflected on and discussed the outcomes, benefits and challenges the study, including both positive and	of the patient engagement and these are reported in Table 3.
	negative outcomes
4: Discussion and	Outcomes—Comment on the extent to	Table 3 includes this information in detail. Specific instances of patient influence conclusions	which PPI influenced the study overall.	are also included in the paper Methods and Discussion such as. including searching Describe positive and negative effects	of the Patient Experience Journal and emphasising the importance of implementing organisational procedures for reimbursement and compensation.
5: Reflections /	Comment critically on the study,	Table 3 includes a critical analysis. Further information is included in the critical perspective	reflecting on the things that went well	discussion section including Limitations.
	and those that did not, so others can learn

Appendix D: GRIPP2 Reporting Checklist - Short Form

1