

A3. Classification of category-specific information for drawings and sketches across layers in VGG-16. Category-information could be extracted with increasing accuracies across the pooling layers from activations in VGG-16 for both drawings and sketches. Yet, category-specific information was largely lost in the fully connected layers for both types of depiction.