

Figure S1. Representative genome organizations of the viruses with (nearly) complete genomes carried by arthropods on the body surface of bats. The genomes are drawn to a unified length scale. Predicted ORFs of these genomes are labeled with information on the potential protein or protein domain that they encode.