

Supplementary Fig. 3. Proportions of patients according to income. During the study period, the age-standardized rate (ASR) for cholecystectomy was consistently highest in the most affluent group.