Supplemental Figure 3. Evaluation of Classification Quality of GeneShift on the M. truncatula Root and Shoot Data Sets. A confusion matrix was used to evaluate GeneShift classification performance. The x axis represents the labels predicted RNN LSTM model. The y axis represents the true labels generated by GeneShift workflow. The diagonal elements represents the number of expression which the predicted label matches true label.