

Supplementary Figure S1: Selection of cutoff values. The number of nodes (red), number of edges (blue) and network density are represented as a function of cutoff value. Only edges with value greater than the cutoff value were used to visualize the co-expression network. Only nodes connected by these edges were used in our network analysis. The corresponding network densities at different cutoff values are shown in black dashed line.