

Supplementary Table 3. Education and training (questions 15-17)

No.	Question	Possible responses
Q15	Please rate each of the following statements according to your current clinical practice:	Multiple answers (5-point Likert scale: strongly agree, agree, neutral, disagree, strongly disagree): Interested in receiving further training; understand amino acid-based formula; confident to diagnose and manage lactose intolerance; understand partially hydrolysed formula; understand lactose-free extensively hydrolysed formula; understand the differences between the various hypoallergenic and lactose-free infant formulas; confident to diagnose and manage cow's milk allergy; confident to distinguish cow's milk allergy from lactose intolerance in infants; understand lactose-containing extensively hydrolysed formula; primary lactose intolerance in infancy is common
Q16	What educational resources and training tools on cow's milk allergy and lactose intolerance are currently available in your country?	Multiple answers: Printed materials/handouts; lectures; online tutorials/webinars; local symposia; invited expert speakers; others
Q17	What type of local teaching activities on cow's milk allergy and lactose intolerance would you find useful in the future?	Multiple answers: Printed materials/handouts; lectures; online tutorials/webinars; local symposia; invited expert speakers; others