主题: The change of co-authors about CDDIS-21-4379RR

Dear Authors:

Our recent manuscript CDDIS-21-4379RR, entitled "Cytochrome B5 Type A alleviates HCC metastasis via regulating STOML2 related autophagy and promoting sensitivity to Ruxolitinib." has been provisionally accepted for publication in Cell Death & Disease, lists you as a co-author. The author information has changed since the original submission.

In particular, I added Jizhou Wang as a co-author in view of his important contribution to the revision process. And I adjusted the order considering the contributions of all authors.

As the author information has changed, I ask for your opinion:

If you agree with all the final author information, please reply I accept all the author information changes.

If you disagree with the final author information or have other suggestions, please email me with details.

The changes of Author List and Contributions are as follows:
