

Fig. S3. Mutation spectra of single base pair substitutions in each sample of the discovery cohort. The proportions of the six classes of base substitutions resulting in point mutations in each tumor genome of the discovery cohort are shown. Samples are arranged in descending order of proportions of C > T substitution.