

Supplementary figure 1. Utilisation of fibre type-specific subcellular glycogen in type 1 fibres (left panel) and type 2 fibres (right panel) in the participants divided in high and low tertiles based on the muscle glycogen content measured biochemically at baseline (n=6 in each tertile). Data are presented as geometric means and 95% CI.